

Surcharge on Tax to End Next Week

Rotary Club Speaker

WASHINGTON (AP) — The initial installment of a $6.5-billion boost in the public's spending power shows up in workers' paychecks starting next Wednesday when the 5 per cent income surcharge expires and personal income tax exemptions rise.

While acknowledging the buildup of spendable income won't help anti-inflation efforts, administration economists said privately it may be a needed boost for the economy.

"The economy is soft and personal income has begun to decline," one official said.

"Dropping the surtax may be just about the right thing to do at the right time, though it wasn't exactly planned that way."

A 10 per cent surtax on personal and corporate incomes was imposed in April 1969, effective for all that year. It added about $9 billion to tax collections for 1969.

The rate was cut to 5 per cent last January under the new tax reform act and the surtax itself set for expiration as of midnight June 30.

On the basis of various federal fiscal moves, purchasing power worth $18.5 billion a year will have been handed consumers and businesses as of July 1—a boost in Social Security payments, a government pay raise, the phaseout of the surtax and the start of tax reductions.

In the same period, government spending has shifted from surplus to deficit. While tightening credit even more, it is not necessarily inflationary, the administration insists, because there is ample slack in the private economy to absorb the flow of federal dollars.

Besides the elimination of the surtax, July brings the first major benefits of the tax relief voted by Congress in December.

This includes an increase in the personal income tax exemption from $600 to $650 a person. In subsequent years it will rise to $750. The change will be built into the withholding schedules, along with a cut in the tax liabilities of lower-income families through a new low-income allowance.

These gains in immediately disposable income should offset the weakness of personal income, which turned downward in May for the first time since 1965.

ARGENTINA (from Page One)

tinguished-looking Aramburu, a retired army general, was believed to be a favorite of the military to replace President Juan Carlos Ongania. Then Aramburu was kidnapped from his home on May 29 by two young men masquerading as army officers. The disappearance undermined what was left of public confidence in Ongania's government, and it toppled June 8.

Aramburu's friends charged that fascists connected with Ongania's government kidnapped the general to remove him from the political scene. Many Argentines believe this, but others believe a conflicting story told by persons claiming to be the kidnappers. They identified themselves as followers of former dictator Juan D. Peron, now living in exile in Spain.

The self-proclaimed kidnappers say they seized and executed Aramburu for his role in the 1956 executions. They claim to be members of a group named for Gen. Juan Jose Valle, leader of a Peronist uprising which led to the 27 executions.

Nasser to Moscow, May Talk Peace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser arrived in the Soviet Union today and was expected to discuss with Soviet leaders the new American Middle East peace proposals and his country's defense needs.

The Arab leader's visit came in the wake of statements by Palestinian guerrilla leaders that they would sabotage any effort at reaching a political settlement between Arab governments and Israel.

On the battle fronts, Israeli warplanes raided Jordan and southeast Lebanon Sunday in retaliation for Arab guerrilla attacks that killed one civilian and wounded two civilians and two policemen. The Israeli air force also kept up its day-and-night attacks on Egyptian posts along the Suez Canal.

The military command in Tel Aviv said its planes attacked Arab guerrilla strongholds on Mt. Hermon in southeast Lebanon for 35 minutes and hit guerrilla bases in Jordan three times Sunday. Large numbers of planes also bombed intermittently along the canal during the day, and the strikes continued through the night.

No Israeli planes were lost, spokesman said.

The three civilian casualties were in the town of Kiryat Shmona, two miles from the Lebanese border. A 23-year-old worker riding a motorbike was killed and a woman was slightly injured in one rocket barrage, and a man was slightly wounded in a second rocket attack.

The two policemen were wounded by bazookas fired by guerrillas from Lebanon who attacked border police in upper Galilee.

Israeli warplanes made sorties twice Sunday against guerrilla targets in Jordan, a military spokesman said. Between the two attacks, guerrillas in Jordan fired rockets at the frontier town of Beit Shean, a frequent target, but no casualties or damage were reported.

Arab and Israeli leaders continued to discuss the new American peace proposals for the Middle East.

Sources close to the Cabinet said it adopted a wait-and-see attitude.

Violence in N.Ireland Ebbs, 5 Dead

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer
BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Violence subsided in Northern Ireland early today after five persons were killed and more than 200 injured in rioting Saturday night and early Sunday. Reinforced British troops remained on alert, under orders to shoot anyone seen carrying arms.

There was considerably less violence Sunday night as the British government rushed more troops in and emergency measures were proclaimed. Another 40 persons were injured in street fights, an explosion started a fire at an oil depot, but only one shooting was reported—a shotgun blast that wounded two soldiers slightly.

Police reported all quiet by 4 a.m.

Violence began Friday night over the jailing of Bernadette Devlin, the fiery young Roman Catholic leader sentenced to six months in prison for leading anti-Protestant riots last summer. The bloodiest toll came in 12 hours of fighting Saturday night as Catholics and Protestants fought each other and the steel-helmeted troops with rocks, bottles and gasoline bombs, and troops and snipers exchanged gunfire. Five civilians were killed and 161 civilians and soldiers were injured.

Provincial Premier James Chichester-Clark declared that his government was facing an attempted revolution. He ordered emergency measures into force, including a partial curfew and early closing of bars. He also promised new laws to deal with rioters but ruled out martial law for the time being.

"All civilians carrying firearms or using firearms in any way whatsoever are liable to be shot without warning," said Lt. Gen. Sir Ian Freeland, commander of British forces in Northern Ireland.

Britain's new Conservative prime minister, Edward Heath, dispatched another 3,000 troops to Northern Ireland, bringing the total to 11,350.

Reginald Maundling, Heath's home secretary and the man responsible for law and order in the United Kingdom, was due here Tuesday to coordinate emergency measures with provincial authorities.

The British Conservatives always have maintained close relations with the Protestant Ulster Unionists who dominate politics in Northern Ireland and control the government.

The Labor party, ousted from office in Britain's June 18 elections, traditionally has been more sympathetic to the Irish Roman Catholic minority.

Most of the province's one million Protestants are staunch supporters of the British monarchy, while most of the 500,000 Roman Catholics want to unite with the neighboring Irish Republic.

Vote on War Funds Set Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — With President Nixon's promised deadline for withdrawing U.S. forces from Cambodia less than two days away, the Senate moved toward the climax of its two-month debate on limiting future American operations there.

Following today's GOP efforts—led by Assistant Republican Leader Robert P. Griffin and Colorado Sen. Gordon Allott—to water down the proposal, the Senate votes Tuesday afternoon on the Cooper-Church amendment to cut off funds for U.S. actions in Cambodia after June 30.

That date was picked by the amendment's sponsors—Republican John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky and Idaho Democrat Frank Church—because Nixon said all American troops would be out of Cambodia by then.

Today's Republican moves were the rear guard of constant efforts by defenders of Nixon Southeast Asia policies to take the edge off Cooper-Church—such as Griffin's try at softening the language.

Allott's proposal to seek an earlier vote than war critics originally sought on the amendment to cut off all funds for the Indochina war after Dec. 31, 1970, had been introduced in hopes it would be defeated now.

Its original sponsors wanted action later this summer so the proposal could serve as another vehicle for extended debate on Vietnam and opposed Allott's maneuvering for a quicker decision.

Today's Senate action was played against these other developments:

—Secretary of State William P. Rogers said in advance of his scheduled meeting with the President at the Western White House that Nixon would make a renewed peace initiative after all U.S. forces are out of Cambodia.

—The President continued preparing a written statement to be issued Tuesday on the Cambodian operation.

—North Vietnam broadcast Sunday a statement that the United States had obtained none of its objectives in Cambodia and was claiming an "imaginary victory."

—Rep. Gerald R. Ford, the House Republican leader, said the Cambodian incursion had been successful "far beyond expectations" and he personally thought it might even lead to an accelerated withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam.

The Labor party, ousted from office in Britain's June 18 elections, traditionally has been more sympathetic to the Irish Roman Catholic minority.

Most of the province's one million Protestants are staunch supporters of the British monarchy, while most of the 500,000 Roman Catholics want to unite with the neighboring Irish Republic.

Monday, June 29, 1970
no response but thought such idea was under consideration.

—In another speech prepared for today, Sen. Claiborne Peck D-R.L., suggested Borneo might be a good place to send pro-U.S. South Vietnamese in the event of a Communist takeover their country.

The final Cooper-Church vote in the Senate will be followed by a final vote on the Foreign Military Sales Bill that has been the vehicle for antiwar debate.

The President, in his Tuesday report, is expected to say that all U.S. troops are out of Cambodia—as he promised—and that the operation he first unveiled April 30 was successful in clearing out enemy sanctuaries assuring the continued de-escalation of the war in Vietnam.

Whatever the final vote on Cooper-Church, it is not expected to affect the President's report nor—many in the Senate feel—his over-all policies.

Sees Confidence Crisis in State

CHARLESTON, Ark. (AP) — In a campaign rally here Saturday night, Dale Bumpers of Charleston said there is a "crisis of confidence" in Arkansas.

Bumpers, who is seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said he would not seek a third term and is running for re-election.

He said former Gov. Orval Faubus "has proclaimed that just because he said it, doesn't make it so."

"We have had the old machine replaced by the money and the old machine wants to replace the money machine," Bumpers said.

Old-Time Whittler Now Turns Out Top-Drawer Wood Carving

By KENNETH FRY
Fort Smith Southwest Times Record

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — How many people can remember something from their childhood, then carve a beautiful replica of it?

Everett Reed of Fort Smith does that when he takes a block of wood and reshapes wagons and farm implements from his childhood memories.

"When making a wagon and a part is needed, the idea will come to me and I will make it," Reed said.

Reed first started carving the models in 1963.

The first piece he made was a stagecoach with two horses and a man. He has since given the coach to his grandson.

"I have been interested in carving for a long time, but all I ever did was sit around and whittle canes and walking sticks."

Reed put more than 100 hours in his first product. "I worked hour-after-hour to complete it," he said.

Reed enjoys making wagons because wagons were the only convenience his family had when he was a child.

"They were the only means of transportation we had," he said.

Born and reared in Clarksburg, Reed has lived in Fort Smith since 1936. He retired from Harding Glass Co. after almost 30 years service.

Reed's favorite carving is a red stagecoach that has a monkey box and suitcase on top and workable doors. The body of the coach is carved from a single piece of wood.

"When my grandson is old enough to take care of the coach, I will give the piece to him," Reed said.

Although it was hard to say, Reed decided his most complicated piece is an Owensboro wagon. The idea for the wagon, which was manufactured in Owensboro, Ky., came from one Reed's father used to own.

Reed is in between carvings now. He said he is not sure what his next work will be.

Other pieces carved by Reed include a surrey with fringed on top, the Cadillac of the old days, two stage coaches, farm equipment including a cultivator, cotton and corn planter and fertilizer distributor buggy, delivery hack and an old fashioned cart used by rural mailmen and doctors.

Reed also has some relief carvings out of wood and some furniture which he has made. All of Reed's work is done by hand. He uses only wood rasps to carve. The only other tools he has are an electric drill and a saber saw.

Most of his work is done from hardwood since it doesn't chip as easy as soft wood. Reed does have a model hay rake that has one piece missing. "I cannot remember how the piece worked, and I cannot find out how to make it," he said.

HARRIS - RADCLIFF WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Candice Ann Harris, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. Lynn Harris of Hope to Specialist 5 George Edward Radcliff, grandson of the late Mrs. Maggie Blackwood of Hope, was solemnized Saturday evening at seven o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church in Hope. The double ring rite was performed by Rev. James E. Sewell, pastor.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of imported silk peau de soie and silk organza with a Empire silhouette. The gown was accented with re-embroidered Alencon lace and tiny pearls. Lace and pearls graced the wedding ring neckline and the chapel length train. Her headpiece was halo style fashioned of three Alencon lace pearl centered roses placed on imported silk organza petals.

This was attached to an elbow length veil of imported silk illusion. The bride carried a hand carved mother-of-pearl Bible from Bethlehem to which a cascade of white and pink fleur de amour was attached. Miss Marilyn Harris was her sister's maid of honor. Miss Linda Britt and Miss LaJuana Davis of Wickes were bridesmaids. They all wore identical gowns of pink full length rayon chiffon with Empire waists and sheer full sleeves. Their headpieces were pink nylon net leaves trimmed with Swiss braid rosettes and lilies of the valley. They carried pink gladiolus bouquets.

The candles were lighted by Mrs. Herbert Parmer and Miss Ann Rawson, cousin of the bride, of Monroe, Louisiana. They wore matching gowns of white and pink rayon trimmed in schiffi embroidery and bands of lace. Pink satin bands graced the embroidery.

Charles Blackwood, uncle of the groom of Minden, Louisiana, served as best man. Groomsmen were Steve Harris, brother of the bride, and Donnie Strope of Texarkana, brother of the groom. Ushers were Travis Schobey and Jim Allen of Homer, Louisiana.

The bride's mother wore a light blue taffeta dress overlaid with white and blue lace. She wore light blue accessories and pinned an orchid at her shoulder.

Mrs. Elmer May of Homer, Louisiana, aunt of the groom, sat in the groom's place of honor. She wore a A-line dress of roses linen dress with a trepanto rolled collar and matching pockets. Her accessories matched her dress. She pinned an orchid at her shoulder.

Dr. Lowell Harris, uncle of the bride, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer". Mrs. R. L. Gosnell, organist, provided the nuptial music.

The ceremony was performed before an altar of greenery and lighted tapers. Baskets of white gladiolus, stock, and jade formed the background behind the kneeling bench. The center aisle was marked with tapers with greenery and satin streamers.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, a union candle was lighted by the couple. A reception was held at the church. The bride's table was decorated with pink and white roses and stock. The cloth was peau de soie and seed pearls with illusion overlay.

Miss Elsie Rawson of Monroe, Louisiana, and Miss Laura Wells of Bradford, cousins of the bride, distributed the rice bags. Miss Betty Morris and Miss Debbie Holmes were in charge of the guest book. Presiding at the bride's table were Mrs. Don Blackwood, of Magnolia, Mrs. Lowell Harris, Mrs. Harve Rawson, Mrs. John Rawson, of Independence, Missouri; Mrs. Jim McKenzie; and Mrs. Lyle McMahon.

The couple will be at home in Aunsbach, Germany where the groom is stationed with the United States Army. The bride will attend the University of Nurnberg in Nurnberg, Germany.

REHEARSAL DINNER

Aunts and uncles of the groom entertained with a rehearsal dinner for the wedding party of Miss Candice Harris and Eddie Radcliff at the Town and Country Restaurant Friday, June 26.

The table was decorated with pink carnations. The couple chose this time to present gifts to their attendants. Covers were laid for 30.

The shows have such names as "The Young Lawyers," "Storefront Lawyers," "Silent Force," and "The Young Rebels."

Said one producer of old-fashioned escapism, not attempting to hide his sarcasm, "You can look for a lot of shows with kids running down the street and jumping into automobiles."

Quinn Martin, producer of "Dan August" and the returning "FBI," said, "I think the realism we are getting to now is a breakthrough. I think television lags behind the movies, and will stay behind. But I think the movies have progressed so much and I think the networks and the advertisers realize you have to catch up with the times."

Norman Felton, a tall, thin, bearded man whose accomplishments include "Dr. Kildare," "Mr. Novak," and "Eleventh Hour," is executive producer of "The Psychiatrist" segment of NBC's "Four In One."

"We did some research into the reason why people go to doctors," Felton said. "I thought the biggest reason would be respiratory ailments. You know what it is? Loneliness. A patient may say his arm hurts or something, but he goes because he is lonely. These are the kinds of things we'll be exploring."

Hal Holbrook leaves behind his portrayal of Mark Twain to become "The Senator" in a new segment of "The Bold Ones" on NBC, replacing the police show in the three-part series, Holbrook said. Scripts are being written that deal with the political influence of the Mafia and the compromises a senator is sometimes forced to make to accomplish anything.

The networks have been timid and the medium needs to face issues within the framework of entertainment, even if it is only the essence of reality.

The danger exists that many shows will cop out on the brave words of the producers and the public will become further disillusioned.

What is needed, of course, is balance. That's why it was refreshing to hear one producer say, "With all the relevance this year, we're just going to have fun. We're not going to be relevant at all."

Television and Radio

By JERRY BUCK
AP TV and Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD AP) — The fall television season, now in production here, is characterized strongly by a drive for reality and relevance.

The networks have swept aside many taboos, and relevance is the subject uppermost in the minds of producers and performers. Nearly a dozen new shows promise to tackle such contemporary issues as drugs, campus riots, the political influence of the Mafia and the Mexican-American movement.

"Dan August," a new police show on ABC, goes beyond the usual who-dunnit to investigate the murder of a union leader and the crackup of a Negro passing for a white.

Andy Griffith, returning to CBS with "Headmaster," opens with a story about a father who pushes his son to the brink of suicide.

The shows have such names as "The Young Lawyers," "Storefront Lawyers," "Silent Force," and "The Young Rebels."

Said one producer of old-fashioned escapism, not attempting to hide his sarcasm, "You can look for a lot of shows with kids running down the street and jumping into automobiles."

Quinn Martin, producer of "Dan August" and the returning "FBI," said, "I think the realism we are getting to now is a breakthrough. I think television lags behind the movies, and will stay behind. ## Pirates Wind Up Cubs—and Forbes Field

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Pittsburgh Pirates closed the curtain on Forbes Field Sunday and it is rapidly dropping on the Chicago Cubs as well.

The Pirates celebrated the final day of baseball in their park's 61-year history by sweeping Chicago 3-2 and 4-1, tagging the Cubs with a 10-game losing streak.

It was the third doubleheader which Chicago has lost in eight days and the sagging Cubs tumbled into third place in the National League's East Division 2½ games behind New York.

What's worse is that the Cubs are almost as close to fifth place Philadelphia as they are to the first place Mets.

Elsewhere in the National League Sunday, Montreal tripped New York 3-2, St. Louis split a doubleheader with Philadelphia, winning 5-4 before losing 8-3 in 10 innings, San Francisco took two from Atlanta 6-4 in 10 innings and 4-3, Los Angeles blanked San Diego 2-0 and Cincinnati nipped Houston 3-2.

In the American League, Oakland swept two games from Milwaukee 4-1 and 4-1, California split with Kansas City, winning 2-1 and then losing 13-1, Minnesota and Chicago divided, the Twins winning the first 9-1 and the White Sox taking the second 11-10, Cleveland took Detroit 8-2 before the Tigers rebounded in the nightcap 5-1, Boston downed New York 5-3 and then bowed 8-2 in the second game, the Washington edged Baltimore 4-3 in 14.

The Cubs and Pirates were tied at 2-2 in the eighth inning of their opener when Roberto Clemente doubled. Reliever Larry Gura hit Al Oliver and then Phil Regan came on. In between umpire examinations of the baseball, Regan's cap and glove for possible foreign substances, Gene Alley and Jerry May both walked, forcing in Pittsburgh's winning run.

In the second game, the score was tied 1-1 in the fifth when Bob Robertson singled and stole second. Bill Mazeroski was intentionally walked and then Jim Hickman dropped a throw on pitcher Jim Nelson's bouncer, loading the bases. Matty Alou followed with a two-run single.

The sweep was a happy send-off for the old stadium and moved the streaking Pirates to their seventh straight victory and a virtual tie for the NL East Lead. Pittsburgh trails the Mets by two percentage points and starts a three-game series in New York tonight.

The Mets fell victim to some late-inning thunder in Montreal with Rusty Staub hammering a two-run eighth inning homer that brought the Expos from behind.

Dave Marshall, who had three hits, homered in the top half of the eighth for New York, breaking a 1-1 tie. But Staub connected after Don Hahn's single to win it in the bottom half of the inning.

St. Louis moved to within one game of the Cubs by splitting with Philadelphia. The Cards took the opener with Richie Allen's seventh inning single driving in the deciding run against his ex-teammates, Joe Torre had two singles and a homer and drove in two runs.

Sikes Winner of $1,520

CLEVELAND (AP) — R. H. Sikes of Springdale, Ark., won $1,520 in the $150,000 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament Sunday. He had a 280 total.

Miller Barber of Texarkana, Tex., won $1,206 with a 281 total and Richard Crawford of Bella Vista, Ark., won $250 with a 292.

Dan Gurney Wins Second Can-Am Event

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer
Champagne flowed freely Sunday as Dan Gurney made it two in a row in the prestigious Can-Am Challenge Cup series and Mario Andretti finally got rid of early-season troubles to win his first race of the season.

But down in Dixie, 40-year-old Tiny Lund celebrated his 13th Grand American circuit victory in 15 starts by visiting a hamburger stand to feed his 250-pound, 6-4 frame.

Other winners of weekend auto racing events were Bobby Isaac, in a NASCAR Grand National stocker at Greenville, S. C., his sixth of the season; and Jerry Hansen of Minneapolis, in a Class A formula race at State Fair Park near Milwaukee.

Two drivers lost their lives in crashes, both in Europe. Derek Williams, 27, of Britain, was killed when his open-cockpit racer collided with another in a race near Stockholm. A French driver, Jean-Luc Salomon, died in a pileup of three similar cars near Rouen, France.

Gurney, 37, of Santa Ana, Calif., now has won both of the races held in the $1 million 1970 Can-Am series for Group 7 sports-racing cars since joining the McLaren team three days before the opener at Mosport Park, Ontario, two weeks ago.

At Mt. Tremblant, Quebec, Gurney drove a McLaren Mark 8B to victory by 10.4 seconds Sunday over runnerup Lothar Motschenbacher. Gurney led all but 14 of the 75 laps over the treacherous Laurentian Mountains course. His average speed was 97.95 miles per hour.

Gurney, who replaced builder-driver Bruce McLaren on the British-based team, now has won nearly $30,000 in Can-Am money and has 40 points toward a season championship worth $50,000 in bonuses. McLaren was killed June 2 while testing one of the new McLaren cars in England.

Andretti, who started the season with new German-designed McNamara Fords, finally got one of the stubby machines to work properly and easily won a 150-mile USAC championship race at Castle Rock, Colo.

The 1969 Indianapolis 500 winner, whose prize money take last year exceeded $325,000, passed top qualifier Al Unser at the start of the 17th lap over the 2.66-mile road course and was never headed.

Second place went to Swede Savage, a 23-year-old Californian who took over Gurney's championship car when the latter joined McLaren. Third was A. J. Foyt; fourth was Bobby Unser; while Al Unser finished fifth.

Lund, who operates a fish camp at Cross, S.C., when he isn't racing, drove a Camaro to victory in 100-mile race for pony cars at Hampton, Va., Saturday night. Jim Paschal, a 44-year-old veteran, was second in a Javelin, while 51-year-old Buck Baker was third in a Pontiac Firebird.

Isaac, 33, drove a Dodge to his sixth victory of the season after setting a record pace of 75.3 m.p.h. over the newly-paved half-mile oval at Greenville, S. C. Bobby Allison was second in a Dodge, while Dick Brooks was third in a Plymouth and James Hylton fourth in a Ford.

Gallagher's 10th inning homer won the opener for the Giants after San Francisco had rallied to tie the game on Ken Henderson's RBI-single in the seventh.

In the second game, Frank Johnson, substituting for Willie Mays, drove in three runs with a triple and a single as the Giants completed the sweep.

What's What With Eddie Watt . . . ?

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Baltimore Orioles are rapidly learning who's who on the Washington Senators but they'd rather find out what's what with Eddie Watt.

Reliever Watt came on the late innings Saturday night and again Sunday to try to protect slim Baltimore leads and both times the Orioles went out like a light. Sunday's score was 4-3 as pinch hitter Rick Reichardt, the only batter Watt faced, belted a 3-2 pitch for a two-run homer in the bottom of the 12th inning.

Saturday night, Watt came on in the eighth inning with the bases loaded and one out and Baltimore in front by a similar 3-2 score. The first batter to face him, pinch hitter Wayne Comer, promptly doubled home the tying and go-ahead runs in the Senators' 5-3 triumph.

The Orioles' lead the American League East dropped to 2½ games when the New York Yankees trounced Boston 8-2 after losing the opener of their doubleheader 5-3. Elsewhere, Detroit downed Cleveland 5-1 after losing 8-2, Minnesota whipped the Chicago White Sox 9-1 but dropped an 11-10 nightcap slugfest, California nipped Kansas City 2-1 before the Royals romped 13-1 in the second game and Oakland took a pair from Milwaukee by identical 4-1 scores.

In the National League, Montreal edged the New York Mets 3-2, Pittsburgh swept the Chicago Cubs 3-2 and 4-1, Philadelphia beat St. Louis 8-3 in 10 innings after losing 5-4, Cincinnati shaded Houston 3-2, Los Angeles blanked San Diego 2-0 and San Francisco won a doubleheader from Atlanta 6-4 in 10 innings and 4-3.

The Orioles had gone ahead of Washington in the top of the 12th when Paul Blair raced home from second as first baseman Mike Epstein dropped a throw for what would have been the third out.

But Dick Hall walked pinch hitter Jim French to open the Senators' half. Pete Reichert came on and retired Ed Stroud but Watt replaced him when the right-hand hitting Reichert was announced as the batter for Lee Maye.

"That French walk was a key," said Washington manager Ted Williams. "He gets a walk and it's the game. The base on balls is the most unaccredited thing in baseball. It's as good as a hit and you're making the pitcher throw a lot of pitches."

Baltimore's Earl Weaver, however, said the game was decided "by eight inches." Before slamming his ninth homer of the season, Reichert fouled a sharp grounder to third baseman Brooks Robinson, who started what would have been a game-ending double play.

Carl Yastrzemski's three-run homer off Mel Stottlemyre and George Scott's solo shot helped the Red Sox withstand late first-game homers by New York's Bobby Murcer, Thurman Munson and Ron Woods.

But reserve catcher Jake Gibbs walloped a three-run homer and Roy White connected with a man on as the Yankees won the nightcap behind Stan Bahnsen. Tom Satriano homered for Boston.

Sam McDowell won his 11th game with a five-hitter and Jack Heidemann rapped out five straight singles in the Indians' opening-game win over Detroit. Rookie Roy Foster slammed his ninth homer, Mike Killebrew of the Tigers stopped the Tribe on six hits in the nightcap, with the winners scoring all five runs in the sixth inning against four Cleveland hurriers.

The White Sox, who had lost both ends of their previous seven twin bills this season, squeezed past Minnesota in their nightcap on home runs by Ken Berry, Danny Murphy, Luis Aparicio and Bill Melton. Tony Oliva and George Mitterwald homered for the Twins, while Harmon Killebrew smacked two homers and Oliva one in Minnesota's first-game romp.

The Angels, who also split, remained three games behind the Twins in the AL West. Jim Freyville, S. C. Bobby Allison was second in a Dodge, while Dick Brooks was third in a Plymouth and James Hylton fourth in a Ford.

Isaac, 33, drove a Dodge to his sixth victory of the season after setting a record pace of 75.3 m.p.h. over the newly-paved half-mile oval at Greenville, S. C. Bobby Allison was second in a Dodge, while Dick Brooks was third in a Plymouth and James Hylton fourth in a Ford.

Hanalei Bay, Nijinsky Win Rich Purses

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Hanalei Bay, a milk-fed orphan who grew into a stakes-class performer, and Nijinsky, the royal Canadian-bred who has become the talk of Europe, scored victories in two rich races for 3-year-olds over the weekend.

Hanalei Bay, owned by Robert K. Miller, won the $123,200 Hollywood Derby, Saturday while Nijinsky, owned by American Charles Engelhard, made the Irish Sweepstakes Derby at The Curragh, Ireland, his ninth victory in as many career starts.

In two other big stakes, Sarah Hall's French-bred Semillant, ridden by Frenchman Jean Crugnet, won the $84,200 Massachusetts Handicap on the grass at Suffolk Downs and Sonny Werblin's Silent Screen took the $56,900 Saranac Handicap at the closing of the Belmont Park meeting.

Hanalei Bay, who was orphaned at three weeks and on a special milk formula, got home by a neck over Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gary's favored Corn off the Cob, with Western Welcome third in the Hollywood Derby at Hollywood Park.

The race was marred when Faithful Leader, ridden by Wayne Harris, fell, broke an ankle and had to be destroyed. My Gallant Way almost fell and unseated Alvaro Pineda. Neither Harris nor Pineda was hurt.

"It was so easy even my grandmother could have won on this great horse," Irish jockey Liam Ward said after Nijinsky came from behind for a three-length victory over Meadowville in the Irish Sweepstakes Derby.

In becoming only the second English Derby-Irish Derby winner in history, Nijinsky ran the 1½ miles in 2:33.6 for the first price of $136,800.

Englehard said he plans to keep Nijinsky, son of 1964 Kentucky Derby winner Northern Dancer, racing in England but also would like to win France's Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe and a major race in the United States.

Semillant carried 113 pounds over the the about 1½ miles in 2:27 1-5 for 2½ length victory over James B. Moseley's filly Drumtop, high-weighted at 119 pounds, in the Massachusetts Handicap. The winner paid $10.60.

Silent Screen, $4.80, top-weighted at 123 pounds, carried John L. Rotz over the one mile of the Saranac for 3-year-olds in 1:36 for a three-length victory over El Peco Ranch's Aggressivley, cwith Her-Jac Stable's Naskra third.

Coaches All-America Gets Record Crowd

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
LUBBOCK, Tex., (AP) — The All-America Coaches Association football game is alive and well in Lubbock, Tex.

"We're really pleased to say it mildly," said Bill Murray, president of the AFCA. "The game is definitely on in Lubbock for next year."

A record crowd of 41,150 jammed Jones Stadium Saturday night as the East outlasted the West 34-27 in a wild-scoring thriller that had tempers on edge.

It was a far cry from the 17,000 persons who watched the game in Atlanta in 1969.

"It was a great effort by the community to come back from that tornado the way they did and pack the stadium," Murray said.

A tornado killed 26 persons in Lubbock May 11 as it cut an eight-mile swath through the city.

"We thought the game was dead here for awhile after the tornado," Murray said. "I was really surprised the way things turned out. They even made some money on it. Just great... really great."

The nationally televised battle had everything—a nerve-jangling ending, nine touchdowns, fist fights, and a light failure in the last pulsating moments.

The East evened the series at five games apiece. Bruce Taylor of Boston intercepted a Dennis Shaw pass and zipped 42 yards for a touchdown late in the fourth period to give the East its final margin of victory.

But Shaw, a strong-armed youngster from San Diego State who is bound for the Buffalo Bills, rallied the West. He whipped them down the field where a pass to Idaho's Jerry Hendren at the final gun was ruled just out of the end zone. Seconds earlier Shaw had hit Ron Gardin of Arizona with what appeared to be a sure touchdown pass, but Gardin stumbled after making the catch of the 33-yard pass and fell on the East, 3.

Davidson's Gordon Slade, the East quarterback, rifled touchdown passes of 4 and 21 yards to Frank Foreman of Michigan State and ran five yards for a touchdown himself.

Ohio State's bruising Jim Otis was voted the most valuable player as the East star gained 145 yards in 47 carries.

The game even had a blocked punt turned into a touchdown by Texas Tech's Richard Campbell of the West. Campbell sang the national anthem before the game.

A few players exchanged kicks and punches in the waning moments of the game played in 90-degree heat on Jones Stadium's new synthetic turf.

But things cooled off after the lights on the west bank of the stadium winked off with two minutes to play.

Coach Charles McClendon of the East by way of Louisiana State said "I never saw a better offensive game. Wasn't it great? Shoot we didn't win until the last second and you can't ask for any more than that."

Vietnam Vet Finishes 2nd at Cleveland

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
CLEVELAND (AP) — He's got to be the happiest loser of the year.

"I'm still in a cloud," Steve Eichstaedt said Sunday after his upset bid failed and he settled for second place in the $150,000 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament.

"I'll probably have to pinch myself tomorrow when I wake up to make sure it isn't all a dream."

The tall, rail-thin young veteran of combat duty in Vietnam had to be the biggest longshot in the field—many of the touring pros didn't know him, hadn't heard of him—when they started play.

He hadn't made a dime in three previous tournaments this year. But, at one point on the stretch of the leg-wearying 36-hole windup, he holed out a six-iron shot for an eagle and took the lead.

But the 24-year-old couldn't keep up with Bruce Devlin's scorching pace and finished second, shooting a final 18 for 272, four strokes back of Devlin.

The Australian tour regular opened with a 66, then flashed in with a six-under-par 64, matching the course record for the hilly, 8,661 yard, Aurora Country Club course.

That gave him a 72-hole total of 268, 12 under par, for the $30,000 first prize and his second championship of the year. He won the Bob Hope Desert Classic early in the season and has earned over $87,000 for his best year since joining the tour in 1962.

Bob Murphy, 68, and Larry Hinson, 66, tied for third at 273, with Lee Trevino, Dave Hill and Lou Graham locked at 274. Hill had a 69, Trevino a 67 and Graham a 66. Tom Weiskopf was alone at 275.

Eichstaedt, a Miami resident, was the darling of the gallery—once they found out who he was. He bolted into contention with a sparkling 65 in Saturday's rain-delayed second round and didn't falter in the grinding stretch drive.

Eichstaedt, whose father manages the Miami Lakes Country Club, graduated from

Smith Beats Evans in Quarter-Mile

By DAN BERGER
Associated Press Sports Writer
BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Lee Evans, long the world's premier quarter miler, lost in his final United States appearance and immediately named his conqueror as "the man who will be No. 1 for a long time after me."

UCLA sophomore John Smith, a 20-year-old who ran in the shadow of teammate Wayne Collett this season, blasted to the front in the final 20 yards Saturday night to capture the 440 at the National AAU track and field championships.

In the process, Evans, Collett and world record holder Curtis Mills were beaten with his 45.7 lifetime best.

"John and I are good friends," said Evans after the race. "I couldn't accept losing to anyone but him. I'm through after this year and I pick John to be No. 1 for a long time. He's got the proper attitude and he's got a lot of talent."

The modest Smith — called by UCLA Coach Jim Bush "a novice in the 440" — said the quarter was billed as a race with a great field and "I think the pressure hurt everyone but me."

He said, however, that Evans' position in the outside lane was the thing that hurt the Olympic king. "If he had been inside, he would have won," said Smith, who came from four yards back with 20 to go to catch the fading Evans.

Another relative newcomer to stardom was the U.S. Army's Ben Vaughan, winner of the 220 and second in a controversial 100.

Vaughan, a 5-foot-11 former Georgia Tech sprinter, claims he has "a miserable start." But he needed only a burst of speed at the head of the final straightaway Saturday night to win the 220 in 20.8, edging late-striding Willie Turner of Oregon State, the NCAA king.

In Friday night's 100 finals, Vaughan appeared to hit the tape ahead of Southern Illinois' Ivory Crockett, the defending champ. But judges studied a photo of the finish and awarded first place to Crockett. "The least I thought they could give me was a dead heat," Vaughan said.

The next morning, officials received a protest about the decision from Army Coach Ralph Higgins and they again studied the photo. But Crockett retained his crown again when the judges stuck by their decision.

Others to win titles Saturday night at the Bakersfield College track were Ralph Mann, with a 49.8 meet record victory in the intermediate hurdles; Ken Swenson of Kansas State with a 1:47.4 half mile triumph; Bill Skinner, who heaved the javelin 276-7; William & Mary's Howell Michael with a 4:01.8 mile; Randy Matson with a meet record 67-10½ shot put and Milan Tiff who took only one attempt and won the triple jump at 53-0.

Also winning Saturday were Bill Reilly in the steeplechase at 8:34.6, Bob Seagren in the pole vault at 17-2 and Tom Dooley in the two-mile walk at 13:44.0.

The six-mile went to two teammates who finished in a dead heat with arms locked. Frank Shorter, winner of the three-mile the night before, and Jack Bacherlor, both of the Florida Track Club, ran 27:24.0.

Mary Mills Wins Ladies' PGA Open

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mary Bentley Mills leaped out from eight strokes behind the pace to take the $20,000 Ladies PGA Open here Sunday.

Miss Mills, from Laurel, Miss., had finished in a three-way tie for eighth place at the end of the second of three days the players school in 1967 and joined the tour in 1968. He finished 19th in the Los Angeles Open, his first start, and won about $2,000 before he was drafted in March. Sunday's second place was worth $47,100.

His army stint included 10 months of duty in Vietnam, serving as a medic with an infantry company. He was discharged this year, but hadn't made a splash. He missed the cut in two events and failed to qualify for another in his only three starts.

Finley and Seltzer Bid for Seals

NEW YORK (AP) — Pasted pucks and a couple of seals for mascots?

It could happen in the National Hockey League if imaginative Charles O. Finley is given the green light by the loop's Board of Governors to purchase the financially-troubled Oakland Seals franchise.

Bids by Finley, flamboyant owner of baseball's Oakland's A's, and roller derby entrepreneur Jerry Seltzer were to be reviewed by the NHL governors today.

Both offers—Finley's is said to be for about $4.1 million and Seltzer's for about $4.5 million—have been termed financially sound by Superior Court Judge Robert W. Schnacke. It was Schnacke who earlier this month found Trans-National Communications, the team's New York-based owner, in default of certain loans made in connection with its purchase of the club a year ago.

Schnacke's ruling cleared the way for a group headed by Barry Van Gerbig, original owners of the Seals, to reclaim the club from TNC and sell it to Finley. But Trans-National blocked that sale with a restraining order issued in connection with bankruptcy proceedings involving the company. TNC wants to keep the club or else sell to Seltzer.

The Board of Governors must approve any purchaser of a NHL franchise so today's meeting probably will decide the issue.

Family O.K.'s Carolina Offer

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP) — A family disagreement over Tom McMillen, highly sought basketball star from Mansfield, Pa., high school, was settled Sunday night when his parents agreed to his selection of the University of North Carolina for his college career.

After young McMillen signed a letter of intent last Wednesday for Tar Heel Coach Dean Smith, Tom's parents voiced displeasure at his decision. They vowed they would never co-sign the letter of intent which Atlantic Coast Conference officials said was needed to make it legal and binding.

At that time, it was disclosed that the parents favored either the University of Maryland or the University of Virginia, members of the ACC with North Carolina.

McMillen's father, Dr. James J. McMillen, said Sunday night, "Reporters have grossly misinterpreted and exaggerated our reaction to Tom's decision to attend North Carolina. We will accept his decision."

"We are shocked and amazed to read what reporters have inferred in answer to our statement last week. The valid reasons which we mentioned have absolutely nothing to do with violations of the NCAA rules."

"We had a minor misunderstanding in our family, but we have ironed out the few difficulties we had and the family now realizes that North Carolina is the best place for our son."

of play Saturday.

Her three-under-par 69 put her in a three-way tie with Althea Darben and Sandra Haynie at 216 strokes each at the end of third round play.

A bogey on the second hole of a sudden-death playoff cost Mrs. Darben the tournament. She lead by four strokes after the first two rounds. Miss Haynie lost at the first hole of the playoff when she hit a trap and played out in par five, one stroke over the others.

Mrs. Darben's closing 77, five over par, opened the way for the other two to gain the playoff.

Kathy Whitworth, second leading money-winner on the LPGA tour, finished with 69 for a 217 and a fourth place tie with Peggy Wilson, who closed with par 72 on the 6,335-yard Raymond Memorial course.

Ashe, U.S's No.1, Loses at Wimbledon

By RONALD THOMSON
Associated Press Writer
WIMBLEDON, England (AP)

An Australian ex-carpenter and the son of an English steel worker today brought a promise of more excitement into the second week of the Wimbledon tennis tournament, already set ablaze by the downfall of mighty Rod Laver.

The two players adding unexpected spice to these unofficial world championships were Roger Taylor and Bob "Nails" Carmichael, who reached the quarter-finals of the men's singles with upsets that staggered the fans.

Taylor, 28-year-old British professional, ranked last of 16 seeds, was the hometown hero for sensationally knocking Laver out of the tournament he had made his own. Dethronement of the wiry Aussie was the biggest shock at Wimbledon since the championships went open in 1968.

Taylor whose father worked in the steel mills of Sheffield and whose mother taught him tennis on public courts, defeated Laver 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-1 in the finest win of his career.

Carmichael, a one-time woodworker who has toiled for eight years on the international tennis circuit without notable success, got into the quarter-finals with a straight sets victory over South Africa's Bob Hewitt.

The 29-year-old unseeded Australian had never previously reached the last 16 at Wimbledon, let alone the last eight.

In Tuesday's quarter-finals, Taylor plays Clark Graebner of New York, the only American left in the men's singles, and Carmichael plays Spain's Andres Gimeno, conqueror of third-seeded Arthur Ashe in another major fourth-round upset.

Ashe, from Richmond, Va., had been America's main hope for the title, but Gimeno, seeded only 14th, took him out with surprising authority in three sets.

Other quarter-final matches will be All-Australian affairs—Tony Roche against Ken Rosewall and John Newcombe against Roy Emerson.

Three American girls were in the spotlight today in women's quarter-final matches on the showpiece center and number one courts.

Mrs. Billie Jean King, the second favorite from Long Beach, Calif., played Australia's Karen Krantzcke. Rosemary Casals of San Francisco met Winnie Shaw of Britain and Cecilia Martinez, another San Franciscan, played Francoise Durr of France.

Mrs. Margaret Court from Australia, the top seed now at a peak of her form and fitness, took on West Germany's Hilga Njessen.

Royal Top Grid Coach of Decade

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Texas University head football coach Darrell Royal has been named the outstanding coach of the 1960s in a poll conducted by the ABC networks.

Royal, who finished with 599 points to 576 for runnerup Bear Bryant of Alabama, was selected Saturday night by writers and broadcasters from all areas of the nation at the annual Coaches All-America football game.

Royal headed two national championship teams in the past decade — the 1963 and 1969 squads.

In 16 years in Texas, the dynamic grid coach has compiled a record of 125-41-4. His record in the 1960s was 86-19-3.

Travelers Turn Back San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Three unearned runs and the shutout pitching of righthander Joe DiFabio enabled the Arkansas Travelers to roll over the San Antonio Missions with a 3-0 victory in Texas league action Sunday night.

Bill Stein, leadoff man in the fifth inning, reached first as his grounder went through Mission shortstop Dave Rosello and got to third as catcher Skip Jutze rapped a double to the wall in right-center.

Two outs later, one of which came as Stein tried to score on a grounder, Dick James threw a wild pitch inside to Lucky Thompson and Jutze scored. James then walked Thompson, putting runners on first and second.

Jose Cruz hit a sharp one-hopper down the first base line that glanced off Mission first baseman Ralph Rickey's glove the victim of Sunday's performance at Sears Point International Raceway was the favorite, Ron Grable of Cupertino, Calif.

But 42 seconds from the finish line, Grable ran out of gas, Gus Hutchison of Dallas zoomed by him to win the Continental 49er Sports Car Championship — and the $5,000 first prize.

Computer to Be Guide in Campaign

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Neal Sox Johnson, executive director of the state Republican party, says the party's voter precinct profile will take the guesswork out of campaigning.

The profile, a compilation of voting habits in each of the state's more than 2,500 precincts, was computerized by a Dallas firm on the basis of data gathered by the GOP organization.

"This profile is tremendous," Johnson said. "I think it's great. Instead of a candidate waking up in the morning and asking himself whether to go to the north end of the county or to some other place, he will know where he ought to go."

Oswald: "When I was your age, I used to shudder when I cut certain old timers as my partner in a rubber bridge game. Somehow or other they never seemed to bid their hands with any accuracy. On looking back, part of our troubles may stem from the fact that I had a reputation as a very fancy bidder."

Jim: "You still have, although you have stopped opening psychics today."

Oswald: "I stopped quite awhile back for two reasons. The unimportant reason was that, when they worked, my opponents would get very mad. The important reason was that they didn't work often enough."

Jim: "I can see that your partner's early bidding of today's hand was based on his fear that you had opened a psychic."

Oswald: "I can't blame him too much. We weren't vulnerable and with both vulnerable opponents in action it looked like something funny was going on."

Jim: "That explains his failure to bid more than five diamonds over your five clubs. Then, when you suddenly went to six diamonds it shouldn't have been difficult for him to mark you with the ace-queen of diamonds and ace of clubs."

Oswald: "He did that all right but his reason for the six-spade call was that he wanted everything not nailed down and that spades counted more than diamonds. You don't think that I could now go to seven diamonds, do you?"

Jim: "No. However, your partner had an easy way to try for the brass ring. He could have bid six hearts to see if you would bid spades rather than rebid to seven in a minor."

THE WELL CHILD

Outdoor Play Beneficial To Children in Summer

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Children who spend a lot of time watching television in an air-conditioned house instead of getting outdoors to play are developing what may be called the summer syndrome, a condition of impaired physical fitness, low stamina and, in some cases, a mild anemia. Most children thrive on summer heat and should be allowed to play in the yard or a nearby park.

If, while sitting in front of the TV, often at too close a range, they also nibble at snacks, their bodies will accumulate fat rather than muscle. Mothers should limit their children's intake of peanut butter, ice cream and candy in the summer because their need for high-calorie foods is less in warm weather.

On the other hand, the need for liquids is increased. Pop, however, should not crowd fruit juices and milk out of your child's diet. If your child has been playing outdoors in the heat he should have a five- or 10-minute cooling-off period before his meal.

Q—My daughter, 6½, is growing hair under her arms. Her pediatrician is not concerned about this. What do you think?

A—Premature development of hair in the armpits is usually accompanied by some hair in the pubic region. This occurs chiefly in girls who are of above average height and is of no significance if there are no other signs of puberty and if an adrenal tumor can be ruled out.

Q—What causes a cradle cap on a baby's head? What is the best treatment for it?

A—A cradle cap consists of yellow scaly or encrusted patches of seborrhea on the scalp. It is common in infants and is treated by giving

Inflation Fight 'Could Be Better'

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford says inflation is being slowed less than he would like, but he thinks the rate will be down to about 5 per cent by the end of this year.
Prices rose 6 per cent in the 12 months ending May 31.
"President Nixon and the administration are confident we are making headway against it," the Michigan lawmaker said, "but I will admit it is not as much as I would like."
He also said in an interview that he does not believe Nixon will change his economic policies because of the upcoming congressional elections.
Ford said he thinks the Nixon policies will drop the rate of inflation and the economy will move out of its present state and rally in August or September for the rest of the year.
Presenting a different view, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said Sunday the President had "mishandled the economy very, very badly." He said he favored cutting the budget, especially in military spending.

Suggests U.S. Absorb Half of Lockheed's Loss, Loan Balance

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — An Air Force general has suggested to Congress that the government share up to half Lockheed Aircraft Corp.'s predicted $647 million loss on the C5 cargo jet and loan Lockheed money to cover the rest.
Lt. Gen. Otto J. Glasser, a deputy Air Force chief of staff, denied it is a bailout plan for Lockheed.
"We are in the same boat with them," Glasser told the House defense appropriations subcommittee April 20 in testimony released today. "So we are bailing us out, if that is the word to use."
He said this might be the best and even cheapest way for the Air Force to get the giant transport plane.
Suggesting Lockheed hid its cost problems in 1968 so the Air Force would buy more of the planes, Glasser said the company's management has been "less than satisfactory." His suggested solution includes an Air Force voice in Lockheed's management of the program.
The C5 loss-sharing, loan plan was included in testimony in closed-door hearings on the military's full range of aircraft, missiles, ships, tanks and other hardware procurement re-
